Chips

Consider that much-maligned, unappreciated, wholly estimable creature—the member of the Board of Editors of the University Hatchet. In the eyes of the layman he is a lily of the fields who neither toils nor spins.

Said a young reporter: "I'd be so glad when I get to be a member of the Board and don't have to do anything but write a few headlines once a week."

Ah, fond illusion! In reality, an account of the Hatchet editor's activities reads like the daily program of an Egyptian slave.

Each Friday night, eschewing gay pastimes, he hies him to the Hatchet Office, where from seven till eleven he wrestles with headlines and copy.

Saturdays he occupies himself writing editorials which sometimes receive, but more often do not, faculty and student approbation, and which in any case are seldom read.

He labors long and faithfully on Sunday evenings at the printing office, writing still more headlines and correcting proof.

Every five weeks when, to use a technical term, it is "his issue," he again repairs to the printing office on Monday evening, arranges the type in the forms and reads proof until the wee sma' hours.

If at the last minute copy is found to be short he must sit him down at the typewriter and summon out of thin air enough material to make good the deficiency. And woe be if he is not equipped with that overworked olfactory organ of the journalist, a nose for news.

For all of which his name is carried on the masthead as a member of the Editorial Board, and each fifth week appears in bold face type opposite the legend: "Editor of this issue," where all who run may read (but few do).

After two years of this regime he emerges from the University, broken in health and spirit, digestion ruined, and eyesight permanently impaired, to sink into an early grave, unhonored and unsung. What price, etc.

The newest of our organizations announces its earnest intention of instilling school spirit into the G. W. student body. The attempt, while commendable, probably will be futile.

Unfortunately, school spirit is not something which can be enacted. Rather, it is a spontaneous combustion of feeling resulting from unanimity of interest, confined in close quarters.

It generates most readily in the isolated atmosphere of the rural campus, where the school is the thing and nothing else much matters.

In the rush of city life, and among students whose outside interests are imminent and innumerable, it is not to be expected that school spirit would manifest itself with the frequency and violence that it does in smaller, more remote institutions.

Nor should it be assumed that school spirit is entirely lacking at George Washington. If not expressed in the customary collegiate horseplay, it still is present in the minds and hearts of students and graduates.

A young lady was recently heard to remark that she had worked for two years on the Hatchet for the sole purpose of getting a bid to Gamma Eta Zeta. This, decidedly, is putting the cart before the horse.

Membership in a professional or honor society is not an end in itself to be attained through politics or empty activity. It is, or should be, recognition freely given those who excel in a particular field because of natural ability, genuine interest, and a desire to represent the University worthily.

It was a blow to us to discover that in our initial appearance on the front page, last week, we hopelessly garbled the spelling of a word. We take comfort in the reflection that even Shakespeare was somewhat wobbly in the matter of orthography. However, in defence to those who do not hold to the simplified spelling, we shall make a brave attempt to adhere more closely to Webster in the future.

DEBATING TEAMS TOUR COUNTRY IN SERIES OF TRIPS

West, East Central and New England States Visited By Teams

G. W. SQUADS IN FOUR MEETS NEXT FRIDAY

Choice of Debaters to Make Up European Tour to be Made Soon

This week marks the beginning of the most extensive debating tours ever attempted by George Washington University. Two teams have already left for the Western and East Central sections of the country, while another leaves today to visit the New England States. The Hatchet is to receive direct wires as to the progress of these debates and will be able to publish the results made on their sectional invasions.

The team which left the latter part of last week for the West was to debate at colleges as follows: City College of Detroit; University of Detroit; Hillsdale College of Hillsdale, Michigan; Deane College of Deane, Ohio; University of Indiana, at Bloomington, Indiana; Butler University, at Indianapolis; University of Cincinnati; Ohio Wesleyan of Delaware, Ohio; Wooster University of Wooster, Ohio; and the University of West Virginia, at Morgantown. This team will debate on Prohibition, the Allied Debts, and China. It is composed of Cyrus V. Hoagland, captain, John F. Seymour, and W. L. Cleveland.

Invade Maryland
Last Monday the same team which recently debated Penn State College, composed of James Kirkland, Joseph Levinson and Ray Harris, left for western Maryland to begin a series of debates at the following colleges: Westminster College, Westminster, Maryland; Rutgers College, New Brunswick, New Jersey; Temple University, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania; Swarthmore College, Swarthmore, Pennsylvania; and New York University in New York City.

The New England States will be invaded, starting tomorrow, by a variety team consisting of W. A. McSwain, William F. Williamson and John T. Trimble. The institutions to be visited on this tour are: Amhurst; Williams College; University of Maine; Colby College; at Waterville, Maine; Bates College; at Lewistown, Maine; Boston University; Clark University; and Columbia University.

It is interesting to note that next Friday George Washington University will engage in three debates abroad and one at home, making four in all, and establishing a record for the year. As the Southern States were toured some weeks back, practically the entire United States will have been traversed by members of the debating teams at the end of next week. Choice of the debaters who are to have a place on the International Debating Team which will visit Europe next year will be made from those having participated in these tours.

CO-ED DEBATERS WILL GO TO OHIO WESLEYAN

Uniform Marriage and Divorce Laws to be Subject of Return Debate on March 5

Co-ed debaters of George Washington will journey to Ohio Wesleyan for a return debate with the girl's team of that school. The subject of the debate will be the same as for the recent debate here, "Resolved, That Congress should enact uniform marriage and divorce laws." This time the G. W. debaters will defend the affirmative.

The team for this debate was selected at the tryouts held on Wednesday, February 9, in Corcoran Hall 1. Those to represent George Washington are Ruth Kernan, Marjorie Mothershead, Alice Nesbit, with Lillian Rhodes as alternate.

Now Practicing
The team will make the trip the first week in March. The debate takes place on Friday, March 5, at Ohio Wesleyan.

Practice will be held every week in preparation for the debate. It is expected that with the change in sides that the G. W. team will be able to obtain a favorable decision from the judges.

Y. W. C. A. MEETS

Razz Berry to go on Sale Next Tuesday

Leonard Hall to Write Article for Satirical Sheet—"Hot" Number is Promised

The Razz Berry, annual satirical newspaper of the local chapter of Pi Delta Epsilon, national collegiate journalistic fraternity, will go on sale Tuesday afternoon at the Mid-Winter Convocation at Continental Memorial Hall and at the Interfraternity Tea Dance to be held in Corcoran Hall. The fraternity announces that the sheet will be the same size as it was last year and will sell for ten cents.

Much scholastic "dirt" which the publishers promise will spare no one, high or low, faculty or student, is reported as having been compiled. The edition will be known as the "Hot" number this year. As usual, red paper will be used as stock. Pledges of the fraternity will handle the sales.

An article by Leonard Hall, dramatic critic of the Washington Daily News and honorary member of the fraternity, will be one of the features of the edition. The publishers refuse to divulge the nature of Len's "piece," but say that it is very good.

INTERFRAT PROM DATE SET; TO BE AT THE WILLARD

Greeks' Ball to be One of Major Social Events of Year

G. W. AND FRATERNITY SONGS TO BE FEATURED

Weidemeyer Orchestra, Favorite in East and South, Will Furnish Music for Event

George Washington University Greeks will meet and dance at their major social function of the year when the Interfraternity Prom is held in the ballroom of the Willard Hotel, the evening of March 11. Elaborate plans are being laid to make this year's prom the big event of the year, especially in view of the fact that no Junior Prom will be held.

Weidemeyer's Orchestra, of Huntington, W. Va., a great favorite in the East and South, will furnish music. This orchestra has played for three summers at Wrightsville Beach, N. C., and regularly plays at Cornell, Princeton, V. P. I., University of Virginia, University of West Virginia, Universities of North and South Carolina, Alabama, Georgia Tech, Georgia, William and Mary, Staunton Military Academy, and Washington and Lee.

To Play Frat Songs
Favorite university songs, including the well-known "Buff and Blue," will be featured, as will be songs of every fraternity on the campus. The big ballroom of the Willard will be decorated with fraternity banners, and the fraternities will applaud as their songs are played.

Favors have not yet been announced, but they will be unique and will be prized by those who receive them. The price of tickets is $5, and dancing will be from ten to two.

The social committee of the Interfraternity Council, under the chairmanship of Vance Brand, is in charge of plans for the prom. Further announcements will be made from time to time.

CLUB TO FOSTER SPIRIT FORMED

New Organization Plans to Hold Student Dances in Gymnasium

FORD YOUNG IS PRESIDENT

George Washington University School Spirit Club is Name of New Society

Planning to crystallize school spirit at the University, a new club has been formed by a number of prominent students. The club had its inception at a meeting held in Corcoran Hall, 17, last Thursday morning, called to discuss the lack of student participation and interest in school activities.

The new organization has been named the George Washington University School Spirit Club. Ford Young was elected president of the new club with Emyrtrude Valden, vice-president, Anne McCorkle, secretary, and Robert Caffey, sergeant-at-arms. All officers were unanimously elected. The club is conspicuous for its lack of a treasurer, such an officer being forbidden to be elected at any time.

To Hold Assemblies

The organization proposes to take charge of assembly once a week, permitting the students to take part in the programs. Members of the club feel that the attendance could be increased greatly if the student body conducted the meeting. They plan to have debating and all other forms of activities in which the elements of rivalry enter.

Impromptu dances will be staged weekly probably in the gymnasium as get-together sessions for the club members. These dances will be held during the recess period between 11 and 11:45. An orchestra composed of students will be assembled for these affairs.

New members of the club will be drawn from all students who have shown school spirit by taking part in a recognized activity or who have evidenced a marked interest in student affairs although they are not directly connected with them. New members may affiliate with the organization by attending a regular meeting on Thursday morning at 11 o'clock in Corcoran Hall and having their name proposed by one of the members.

N. R. A. TITLE WON BY G. W. U. CO-EDS IN RECORD SHOOT

New Intercollegiate Mark Set By Team in Taking National Title

GENE CUVILLIER, FROSH, MAKES HIGHEST SCORE

Team Noses Out University of Missouri by One Point; Maryland Gets Third

After taking second place for four successive years in the National Rifle Association Women's Intercollegiate Match, the George Washington co-ed rifle team won the national title this year with a score of 2991 out of a possible 3000. The University of Missouri was nosed out by a single point when the Colonial co-eds made the highest score ever fired in an N. R. A. match. The University of Maryland, champions last year, fell eight points below the winning team, making a total of 2983.

Most of the firing of the match was done during the Christmas recess when each day brought the team closer to the coveted championship. The fact that no reports of scores were issued before the outcome of the match was announced added an air of mystery to the affair.

No Score Below 100

Gene Cuvillier, a freshman who captained Central High School's championship team last year, was the star of the G. W. co-eds. She shot a "practically perfect" score of 599 out of a possible 600. She also had the best score in the Drexel shoulder-to-shoulder match shot recently. The honors of second place were divided between Marjorie Folsom, Helen Taylor and Emyrtrude Valden, each of them shooting 597 out of a possible 600. The other members of the team followed in close succession. Not a score below 199 out of a possible 200 counted for record.

The scores of the team will be found on page three.

HOSPITAL BENEFIT IN GYM TUESDAY NIGHT

Washington's Birthday Party to be Put on by Board of Lady Managers

Work has begun on "The Birthday Party at Mount Vernon," the annual benefit for George Washington University Hospital, to be held in the University gymnasium on Washington's birthday, February 22, at 8:15 p. m., and is under the direction of Mrs. Charles W. Richardson of the Board of Lady Managers, with Mrs. Eugene Byrnes acting as program chairman. A replica of the banquet hall at Mount Vernon is being made by students of the architectural school, under the direction of Prof. Norris I. Crandall, have charge of decorating the gymnasium for this holiday performance.

Professional entertainers have been secured from New York, and include Baldwin Allan-Allen, "the Harry Lauder of America," and Angus McMillin Fraser, one of the best Scotch dancers and bagpipe players of this country.

These Scotch entertainers are to represent the friends of George Washington and are to entertain at the party with bagpipe selections, Scottish love songs, a sword dance, songs for the Gaelic, the Highland Fling, songs of Scottish history and the Scottish Reel.

The evening will be known as "a birthday party given by General and Mrs. Washington to their Scottish neighbors at Alexandria and Dumfries." Prominent Washington women will take part in the scene with historically correct costumes and properties.

UNDERGRADUATE OPINION

Action taken recently by the faculty of the University of North Carolina has been hailed as the most liberal step forward by collegiate authorities in years. The Carolina magazine printed a story entitled "Slaves" which raised the ire of some students of the University as well as some people outside of its portals. The Student Council became outraged and branded the story "obscene and indecent" and demanded the resignation of the Magazine editors. They had failed to figure the attitude of the faculty, however, and when their edict became known the faculty committee declared itself opposed to censorship. In its stead the committee would have student editors responsible only to their tastes and intelligence.

This attitude on the part of a collegiate faculty will probably horrify and send into cold chills the many so-called conservative college administrations throughout the country. Such action here and in many other places would be unheard of. But why? It seems to us that the attitude of the Carolina faculty is the correct one. Censorship is onerous to anyone, it kills a true reflection of student expression, and is doing the colleges of the very faculties that enforce it more harm than good.

So long as student opinion stays within the bounds of personal liberty and does not overstep license, we see no need for censorship.

DISTINCTION

Much space is given in the newspapers to the news that both the men's and women's rifle teams of George Washington hung up intercollegiate records last week.

This is only one more proof of the fact that the University is forging ahead to its proper standing, and that even greater triumphs will be made in the future. In the meantime a few students—how few!—plug along with real interest in the future of the University.

The co-eds' triumph was a team affair, the George Washington girls making 2,991 points out of a possible 3,000 to take the national intercollegiate title. The other was also a team record, but included a fine individual score. In the triumph over Penn State, scored by the men, F. N. Strawbridge made 298 out of 300 from standing, kneeling and prone positions, a new record.

We are really proud of these things. George Washington has had excellent athletes and people working hard in the interests of the school. We add these records to our growing list of honors.

After all, any school or organization is what one makes it. We have the opportunities here; we have people who are working hard, hanging up records for us, sowing the seed of success. Let us get behind them and help them more than ever.

UNIDENTIFIED

A tirade was recently delivered before a committee of the Washington Board of Trade by one of the better-known local jazz maestros, in which he severely denounced certain university functions, stating that they had developed into "shameful orgies." The critic stated that these functions, attended in the main by boys and girls of "tender years," are in reality nothing more than "drinking bouts."

The local "Whiteman" refused to divulge the names of the universities which he so severely attacked. If this is the sort of thing which goes on, it seems only proper that the institutions at fault be named. To accuse a group in such "blanket indictment" will not aid in getting at the root of the trouble. Then, too, it seems rather queer that an orchestra leader should take it upon himself to castigate those who attend such dances.

FINAL sorority parties start this week and will continue until a week from next Saturday, when silence will reign supreme between the Frosh and sorority girls. From now until then, however, the constant buzz-buzzing will go on undaunted in every niche and corner of the campus.

Zeta Tau Alpha entertained at a "Suppressed Desire" party held at the home of Mrs. Thelma Lohler last Monday. Each girl came dressed as she would look were not her desires suppressed by conventions. Games appropriate to the occasion were played.

Delta Tau Delta gave a formal bridge last week which consisted of 14 tables. Two attractive prizes were the coveted stake for which the competition was keen spirited. Miss Virginia Richards and Dan Eberly finally won out.

Beta Alpha chapter of Phi Mu held a formal bridge at the Carlton Club on Monday night.

Kappa Sigma fraternity held a Valentine dance last Saturday night at the chapter house.

Pi Beta Phi entertained several rushes at luncheon at the Columbia Country Club on Wednesday, February 9.

The Sigma Nus will entertain with an informal house dance on the evening of Monday, February 21, at their chapter house on N Street. "Happy" Walker's orchestra will furnish the music.

Elsie Talbert and Helen Taylor visited Cornell during Junior week.

Marl Morhart and Louise Howell visited Annapolis last week-end.

The S. A. E's will hold their annual Founder's Day Banquet March 19, at the Racquet Club. The chapter announces the pledging of Ralph Darling and A. M. McCain.

Phi Mu held open house on Saturday in honor of Mrs. Charles E. Hornsberger, national vice-president of the fraternity.

The annual Valentine's Day tea for rushes and their mothers was held in the Pi Phi rooms on February 14.

Among those attending the Congressional Reception last week at the White House were, Billie Wright, Minnie Lee Williams, Annabelle Lloyd and Lydagene Black.

Theta Upsilon Omega Fraternity held the formal initiation of Ford Evans Young, Jr., Eugene Harold Wineland, Sturgis Goodwin Bates, Jr., Henry Lockwood Foster, Thomas Randolph Hall, 3rd, and Clyde Pinkney Reeves, at the chapter house last Sunday afternoon.

Zeta Tau Alpha held a formal dance at the Powhatan Hotel Friday night. The music furnished by Elmer Brown and his Troupadours, made the affair one of the liveliest of the year.

Phi Lambda Kappa fraternity held an initiation in conjunction with the Georgetown chapter on Sunday evening. A dinner, followed by a dance, was given in honor of the newest members. Music was furnished by the original Happy Walker Orchestra. Doctors Benton and Stein assisted as hosts, and the hostesses were assisted by the Misses Bessie Kramer, Lillian and Helen Mendel, Ruth and Nettie Sober, Myrtle and Rebecca Kaminsky, Charlotte Kishel, Florence Askins, and Reba Blackburn.

Kappa Delta gave a milkmaid's ball on February 10. All the girls were dressed like milkmaids or farmer boys. Favors, which were corn-cob pipes and red bandanas, added to the rural atmosphere.

Rae Edmonston, Helen Taylor, and Billie Wright went to Annapolis last week-end to see Paul Peter, a former George Washington student, participate in the swimming match between the Navy and the Syracuse University.

The S. A. E's are very indignant because this column ran a notice of a dance given by the fraternity last Thursday. They say their co-ed friends are asking the who's whys and wherefores of the affair. It was the S. P. E's who had the dance.

Acacia fraternity gave an informal Valentine dance Monday night.

Among the George Washington students who attended the recent Washington and Lee parties were Billie Wright, Vance Brand, "Buck" Avis and Bill McReynolds.

The Chi O's held a snappy tea dance last Saturday afternoon at the Lafayette Hotel. About twenty-five friends and an innumerable line of stags, together with the members of the active and alumni chapters of the sorority, attended.

At the luncheon given by Helen Hall at the Columbia Country Club last week, the guests little realized the significance of the affair. All understood, however, when they read the little slips at each place, which announced the engagement of Miss Helen Hall to Mr. Arthur Logan. The wedding is to take place the first part of March and the young couple will live in Baltimore. Helen graduated from George Washington last year and is a member of Chi Omega fraternity.

Bob Gray gave a dance at his home last Saturday in honor of James Holden from Boston Tech. Hermie John, Esther Jenkins, Claudia Kyle, Harold Jenkins and Effie Wade were present.

The Chi Omegas entertained several friends with a peanut party at Keith's yesterday. The entire crowd had seats in peanut gallery and tiny bags of peanuts were distributed from time to time during the acts.

Phi Mu fraternity entertained a number of friends at the Congressional Club on Thursday.

Julia Denning entertained the Chi O's and several friends with a slumber party at her home in Chevy Chase, Sunday night.

The members of Styx gave a theater party last Saturday night and afterwards adjourned to the home of Clem Denicke for a dance.

Me
and the joy-friend...
Prince Albert

WHEN my father was in college, "Put that in your pipe and smoke it!" was considered snappy conversation. I'm ready to take this old line literally when the talk centers around Prince Albert. Because P. A. makes two of what I like in a pipe.

All wise-cracking aside, P. A. is the money when it comes to deep-down satisfaction in a smoke. It's got everything! Cool as the trail of the ice-man across the kitchen. Sweet as vacation. Fragrant as a pine forest.

Think up your own similes. You'll write them all in the column headed "Superlative Degree" when you learn the joys of a jimmy-pipe and Prince Albert. If you don't know this grand old smoke, come around to my room and I'll give you a load.

—no other tobacco is like it!

P. A. is sold everywhere in tidy red tins, pound and half-pound tin humidors, and pound crystal-glass humidors with sponge-moistener top. And always with every bit of bite and punch removed by the Prince Albert process.

FRESHMEN TRIM EMERSON QUINT

Two Extra Periods Needed to Decide Score, 19
to 17

BEATEN BY C. U. RESERVES

More Experienced Team Takes Measure of Frosh in Hard Game, 12 to 8

An extra period game and a forfeited contest resulted in two victories for the Freshman five last week when they defeated Emerson Institute on Saturday night by a 19-17 score, and traveled to Catholic University gymnasium on Wednesday night only to find that the Brookland yearlings were unable to play. A game was played, however, against a team composed of Catholic University varsity reserves, in which the Frosh lost by a slim four-point margin, 12-8.

The Emerson game, played as a preliminary to the St. Bonaventure fray, resulted in a 15-15 tie at the end of the regulation time, and two extra periods were necessary, in the first of which neither team scored. In the second, Ford Young tossed in a field goal to put the locals on the long end of a 17-15 count. This was followed by two successful foul shots by Holden, Emerson forward, which knotted the score again.

Irving Breslow netted the winning shots a minute later by converting two free shots into counters.

Schaffert High Scorer

Schaffert was high scorer for the Frosh, accounting for four field goals and one shot from the fifteen-foot line.

McCartee led the scoring for the visitors, with two field goals and two foul shots.

The game with the C. U. reserves was featured by the defensive play of each team, which resulted in a typical baseball score for the final count. The yearling quint held the upper hand in the first half, leading by 5-3 at the intermission, but could not keep the lead against the older team.

For the first five minutes neither team was in a scoring position. Gray dribbled nearly the length of the floor to sink the first field goal of the game. Incidentally, this field goal, combined with one other double decker, made Gray the high scorer for the Frosh with four points to his credit.

Morrissey held scoring honors for the Brooklanders, looping in three field goals during the contest.

INTERCOLLEGIATE CHAMPIONS

COLONIALS LOSE HARD CONTESTS

Strong St. Bonaventure Quint Takes Measure of Buff and Blue, 21 to 16

G. W. BEST ON DEFENSIVE

Wallace Stars as Lemonites Give
C. U. Scare in Game That Ends, 22 to 18

By KING PRENDER

Twice during the past week the Colonial cagemen drew the short end of the final count after two close, rough, exciting games with the powerful Catholic University and St. Bonaventure quint. The game with the Red Birds was played at Brookland while the other was on the home court of the losers.

In both of these contests the Buff and Blue seemed to lack that indefinable punch which distinguishes the champion from the dub. The chief fault appeared to be inaccuracy of shots, as the defense tactics of the Colonials could hardly be improved upon.

The "Saints" came down from Alleghany, New York, with a record of ten consecutive victories and from their showing last Saturday they should have better than average success with their remaining games.

Jack Flavin's Brookland men flashed sufficient speed and accuracy to sweep through a mediocre defense but they were held to eleven points in the first half and to ten in the second half by the expert man-to-man defense of the Lemonites.

Shortly after the first toss up in the St. Bonaventure game, the gallery was brought to its feet by a sensational long shot executed by Sullivan, visiting forward. This was followed by a free toss credited to O'Neill, Gotham guard.

Capt. Fred Wallace of the Hatchettes then broke through for a nifty field goal.

Between four enemy baskets the brilliant Colonial guard, Allen "Cecil" Perry, worked his way up to score two beautiful and much needed scrimmage baskets. Al played a bang-up game along with his dependable side-kick, Jimmy Carey.

The half ended with the visitors in the van, 11-6.

Colonials Tie Score

When hostilities were resumed the locals found themselves and fought up-hill to tie the score at fourteen all by virtue of a crushing offense led by Carey and Goodson, the latter being a substitute for Haun at center. Goodson made his debut in the C. U. game.

At this juncture the contest took on the guise of a wrestling match with the Colonials doing the most necking. The Gothamites were quick to take advantage of the fouls and forged to the front making seven points to but two for the Axemen, the final count was 21-16.

Honors for the game go to Perry for the losers and to Sullivan and Cronin for the victors.

Although the game with the C. U. Cardinals went down in the books as a loss for the Colonials it will be remembered as a moral victory for them by the spectators.

The Lemon defense was so perfect in that game that the Red Birds were unable to score in the first four minutes of play. Little Eddie Keale, scrappy C. U. forward, finally squeezed through for a two-pointer. Then his mates saw that it was possible and ran up a 9-0 score before Fred Wallace came through with a long shot for the Buff and Blue. The first half ended 9-3 with every indication of a walk-away for the Brooklanders.

Final Period is Epic Struggle

Much to the surprise of the spectators and to themselves, the Colonials came back in the final period to make a lively tussle. Perry and Wallace made successive baskets to open the half, but Keale and Long countered with a field goal apiece. Then Wallace, in his characteristic smooth style, slipped in another basket from scrimmage, making the score 13-9, C. U. leading.

The George Washington fans saw their heroes as victors, momentarily, and began to shout vociferously. A basket by Perry was off-set by two for the opponents.

A series of four Colonial free tosses closed the gap to a difference of three points but five point by Bill Harvey and Ray Foley put the Cardinals out of range even of Wallace's four points at the end of the game.

The fighting Lemonites had lost 22-18, but they gave the victorious quint, which is one of the strongest in the country, a mighty scare.

Capt. Freddy Wallace was easily the star of the game on either side while Keale, Foley and Long were the most prominent men in the winning line-up.

NEWMAN CLUB CARD PARTY

The annual card party of the Newman Club is scheduled for tonight at 8 o'clock in Corcoran Hall, Room 1. The plans promise a most enjoyable evening with a prize for each table. There will be seventy-five tables. The admission is fifty cents.

STUDENT SCORES 298 OUT OF 300

Unusual Mark

PENN TEAM SCORES 1439

Matches With Norwich, Navy, Penn State, and N. R. A. Meets are on Schedule

With the astounding total of 298 out of a possible 300, F. Nielson Strawbridge established a new record for the G. W. Riflers and scored a genuine triumph in the annals of rifle shooting last week.

The match in which Strawbridge distinguished himself was shot with the University of Pennsylvania and resulted in a total of 1457 out of a possible 1500 for the Colonial team. The Pennsylvania team scored 1439 in the match, thus giving the Colonials an 18 point margin of victory.

In accordance with the contest rules only the five highest scores were counted although every man acquitted himself well.

Last week's match with Pennsylvania was the first of a series of seven matches with various colleges included in League A, the leading class in the inter-collegiate competitions of which G. W. is a member.

Norwich Next Team

Next week the Colonial team will contest with Norwich, the strong Maine team, and a close battle is expected.

The match with Navy scheduled for February 26 in the G. W. range will be shot on that date at the Naval Academy, reasons at the government institution necessitating the change of place.

On April 9 G. W. and Penn State will meet in shoulder-to-shoulder competition in the G. W. range.

The National Rifle Association telegraphic matches will be completed early in March and indications point toward an unusually successful outcome in these competitions.

A rifle match has been scheduled for the near future between Alumni and the University team. Coach Stokes is expected to shoot on the Alumni team.

The result of each man's shooting is as follows:

FAIR COLONIALS MEET SWARTHMORE SEXTET

Visitors Successful in First Contest; Buff and Blue Basketers Have Won Two Games

Swarthmore will be met by the girls' basketball team next Friday evening, February 18, in a contest which is considered the most important of the entire season for the local team. As the two line-ups are so evenly matched in strength and skill, judging by their forward prowess, a fast and furious battle is predicted. The visitors, it is reported, have the advantage of possessing a center who measures somewhere around six feet two or three, but the Colonials hope to make up for any deficiency in stature by proving their swiftness of action.

The game will be in the Central High School gym at 8 o'clock, as usual.

Swarthmore in Top Form

The Swarthmore sextet opened their season only a week ago, when they administered a decisive defeat to their opponents, the Swarthmore Club, carrying the score by 43-27. On this first tryout of their skill they showed top form and concentrated teamwork, according to report.

The work of the Buff and Blue basketers in their first two games of the season speaks for itself. In their first encounter, on February 4, with Gallaudet at Kendall Green, they trimmed their opponents with the one-sided score of 34-17. Last Saturday, in their meeting with Western Maryland on the home court, they again showed up creditably, carrying off a decision of 22-19.

Both groups are priming themselves for the anticipated struggle. The line-ups are to be announced later in the week by their respective coaches.

Let old Squire Pipe be the judge...

His HONOR, old Squire Pipe is unquestionably the world's ablest judge of pipe tobaccos. Who else is by nature, training and experience so well-qualified to try a tobacco and hand down a decision on it? So, in the case of Granger Rough Cut, the plea is that Judge Pipe's verdict be accepted as FINAL!

To make a long brief brief: Character witnesses everywhere have sworn to Granger's sterling quality. Experts have vouched for the superiority of its rough cut. Chemists have testified that the new "glassine-sealed" foil-pouch keeps the tobacco in perfect condition.

Finally, it has been shown that by using this foil-pouch (instead of a costly tin) it is possible to sell Granger at just ten cents. On these arguments Granger rests its case! A couple of pipefuls will convince Squire Pipe that it is the world's greatest pipe tobacco... and any good judge of tobaccos will confirm the decision!

SWARTHMORE TO DEBATE AT G. W.

Team to Meet One of Colonial Squads in Corcoran
Hall Friday

MEET CAROLINA TUESDAY

Lose to Penn State Team, 2 to 1, on
"Light Wines and Beer" Question

Swarthmore College will meet a George Washington men's debating team in Corcoran Hall, Friday night, on the subject, "Resolved, That this House Favors the Abolition of Ex-traterritoriality in China." A unique system will be followed at this time, wherein split teams will be used, composed of one George Washington man and one Swarthmore man, on each team. The audience will vote on the merits of the arguments presented.
The affirmative Colonial debater is E. C. Gallagher, while the Hatchette on the negative side is William R.
Ogg.

The University of South Carolina will combat with George Washington varsity debate team on Tuesday evening, February 22, at Corcoran Hall. The subject of the debate is to be, "Resolved, That the Constitution should be amended to permit State control of liquor legislation and enforcement."

Last night a debate was to have been held at Catholic University with a debating team of that institution, on the question of the principle of prohibition as expressed in the Eighteenth Amendment. The Colonial debaters are W.
F. Williamson, W. S. McSwain, and Gwynn Saunders.

Lose to Penn State

In one of the best debates of the year, George Washington was defeated
at the hands of the Penn State College debating team, by a vote of 2 to 1,
last Friday night in Corcoran Hall.

The George Washington team took the affirmative of the question, "Resolved, That the Volstead Act should be amended to include the sale of light wines and beer." The success of the Penn State team is attributed to the method which it followed in upholding the negative. This process, which was approximately the same used by the University of North Carolina on the same question some time ago, consisted of the argument that there should be either real prohibition or none at all. The Pennsylvanians contended that no middle ground would satisfy the people of this country. The Hatchettes attempted to prove the failure of the Volstead Act and the necessity of a change, but were successful in convincing but one of the three judges of their superiority.

The members of the Penn State team were Adams, Brandt and Nurick, while those on the George Washington team were Joseph Levinson, James Kirkland and Ray Harris. The latter team left Monday on a tour of the East Central States. The judges for the evening were Joseph E. Quinlan, Department of Commerce; Mr. Sour-vine, Cornell; and Dr. Harold G.
Moulton, Institute of Economics.
Professor Gilbert L. Hall presided over the meeting.

COLONIAL CO-ED SIX DOWNS W. MARYLAND

Defeat Visitors 22 to 19 in Hotly Contested Game Last Saturday
in Gym

George Washington women's basketball team defeated Western Maryland 22 to 19 in a hotly contested game last Saturday in the G. W. gym.

The visitors displayed excellent teamwork and accurate shooting during the entire game and the Colonials were hard-pressed many times. The game was unnecessarily slowed up by the continual calling of fouls upon the slightest provocation, but in spite of this it was a fast moving affair.

The first points made were two four goals by the G. W. forwards, Ewers and Crumley. Wilson of Western Maryland immediately afterward scored two baskets from the court. The over-zealous refereeing seemingly bewildered the players and the ball went up and down the field for innumerable free shots. At the end of the period the score stood 6 to 6.

Action Quickens

The action quickened in the second quarter and the fair Hatchettes jumped ahead in the first few minutes of play with a two-pointer and a foul goal. The Westminster six soon overcame their opponents' lead and seriously threatened the G. W.
team with a three-point advantage.
The Colonial defense tightened and at the half were on the long end of the score of 15 to 12.

At the start of the third quarter
the two teams were on their toes, George Washington to retain its hard-won advantage and the Maryland girls trying to break through for the victory. It proved impossible, however, for the Westminster
s sextet to conquer the G. W. combination and in spite of heroic efforts on their part, when time was called the score was 22 to 19 in favor of the Colonials.

INDIAN QUINT IS NEXT OPPONENT

William and Mary Season Has Been Series of Ups
And Downs

TO MEET IN GYM TONIGHT

Snyder is Virginians' Star; Orr
Goodson Will Start at Center
For Colonials

Tonight the William and Mary Indians from the wilds of Virginia descend upon the Colonial stronghold at the Gym to participate in the remaining court tilt of the week for the Buff and Blue warriors.

The season has been a series of ups and downs for the Williamsburg basketers. At no time this year have the Indians swung into a winning streak of any length, but on the contrary, the invaders' losing column shows but few consecutive defeats.
Two of the recent losses by the William and Mary quint include setbacks by the University of Richmond and Roanoke College. That the Aboriginal Aggregation is dangerous is clearly demonstrated by the fact that it toppled Lynchburg College from its perch by a 26-18 verdict soon after the latter team had downed the Colonials in a 23-22 contest.

Snyder, at forward, is the star for the Virginians. Besides being high point man on his team, his passing and guarding are reputed to be of the sensational type. He is ably assisted at the other aggressive position by Kent, a clever dribbler and passer. Davis will start at the pivot station for the visitors, where his specialty is getting the tap-off, and caging long shots. Todd and Taylor share the guard posts, where their defensive work is highly rated.
Wynne, a speedy utility man whose snowbirds have often placed the game on ice for the Williamsburgers, will probably see service in the fray.

Lineup Shows Little Change

For the Lemonites, the lineup will doubtless be the same as that of the St. Bonaventure and American U. games. Wallace and Allahouse at forward, Goodson at center, and Perry and Carey as guards will probably constitute the starting team, with Sapp, Bland, and Haun ready to go in on a moment's notice.

Orr Goodson, the six-foot three blonde center, who has shared the pivot position with Haun, is a first year student in the Law School, and comes to George Washington from the Missouri Valley loop, where he was center guard, and high scorer for Nebraska. While with the Cornhuskers, Goodson starred in all departments of the game, and was especially deadly at shots from the gratis line. Although he has been out for basketball at the University for but a week, he has already showed his class as a guard and dribbler, not to mention his prowess at the 16-foot line.

Viewing the matter from all angles, the Colonial quint should, despite opposition of the first ranks, chalk up another victory at the conclusion of the forty-minute session this evening.

'BEAU GESTE' AT NATIONAL

After a seven month run in New York "Beau Geste" comes to the National this week. The play is made from Major Percival Wren's great mystery melodrama of the French Foreign Service, and is directed by Herbert Brenon of the Adolph Zukor and Jesse Lasky Company.

The old Arabian proverb, "The love of a man for a woman may wax and wane with the moon, but the love of brother for brother is as steadfast as the stars," best expounds the theme of this tale of the affection of three brothers for each other willing to cut away from loves, family, careers, all to protect the name of the other suspected in connection with the disappearance of the "Blue Water," a famous sapphire and heirloom—in a famous English family.
